Sign Up for Somerset County's Free E-Newsletter Twitter, Facebook & Email Alerts Too

If you'd like to receive free updates on Somerset County programs, services and issues in a convenient email format, sign up for the free e-newsletter from the Board of Freeholders. The county also offers free email alerts and is on Twitter and Facebook.

Go to www.co.somerset.nj.us/newsletter to view back issues of the e-newsletter and to receive future editions. The next two issues will be coming to subscribers' inboxes on April 8 and April 22.

"We want to encourage more people to opt in to receive the e-newsletter, which has become a key vehicle for communication with our residents," Freeholder Director Jack M. Ciattarelli said, adding that the electronic publication has saved the county about $50,000 over the cost of printed newsletters.

The e-newsletter features reports on priority issues such as shared services, open-space preservation, economic recovery and renewable energy, as well as ongoing programs such as recycling and hazardous-waste drop-offs, H1N1 flu information, and consumer and veterans issues. All subscribers' emails are kept confidential.

You also can sign up to receive free email updates on more than 90 items on the county Web site – from recycling schedules to meeting agendas and minutes to road closings and emergency alerts – by going to www.co.somerset.nj.us/subscribe.html. Some items also have a wireless-text option.
